

How can we present ourselves as a beacon of democracy to the world with a univocal, corporate media here at home? This rules change threatens our own democracy at tis very heart.